Computer Operator and Timing System Operator

- Computer Operators and Timing System operators are critical to running a successful meet!
- As stated earlier, voluntary training is available for both of these positions
- Details are on the following slides

Hy-tek Computer Operator Voluntary Training

Per USA Swimming rules as of 1 Feb 2024, there is no Computer Operator certification. This volunteer training program can be used to learn about the Computer Operator position and gain experience before working the position on your own.

If you choose to use this as a building block towards becoming a certified Administrative Official (AO), some of your computer operator training sessions may count toward AO certification. Please review the Administrative Official certification requirements.

Voluntary Training:

- Complete the Timing System Operator Training (online)
- Review the training materials for Computer Operator
- Work apprentice sessions as a Hy-Tek Computer Operator.
 - It is recommended to apprentice at multiple meets with multiple mentors.
 - Use the Computer Operator Evaluation Form as a guide for the skills need to be successful at the position.
 - If you choose to do four mentoring sessions and an evaluation session, submit a copy of your completed Computer Operator Evaluation Form after your last evaluation/mentoring session.

It is suggested that you work the position regularly to maintain your skills.
